WHAT ELEMENT OF A BIOGRAPHY AM I ACTING OUT?

TODAY'S PURPOSE

By the end of the lesson, you will be able to create a short, fictional dialogue (conversation) between two people by analyzing information from two biographical texts (Michael Jackson and Oprah Winfrey).

WHAT IS A DIALOGUE?

TURN-AND-TALK

DIALOGUE-

- A conversation between two people, it can be written down
- Purpose in writing: to provide more details

Ms. Ackerman: Hello Sydney, how are you today?

Sydney: I am excellent! How are you Ms. Ackerman?

Ms. Ackerman: I am doing well. Did you do anything fun over the weekend?

FIST-TO-THREE

1: I AM STILL CONFUSED
2: I UNDERSTAND BUT WILL NEED SOME GUIDANCE
3: I UNDERSTAND THE INFORMATION

QUESTIONS?

ASSIGNMENT

- Create a dialogue, written conversation, where Oprah is interviewing Michael Jackson on her talk show.
- Oprah and Michael will ask and answer each other's questions.
- The questions and answers will be created using the information about the two people on the analyzing biographies worksheet from Tuesday. Remember, I have the information filled out on a document inside google classroom if you missed something.
